

christine duong

web developer | www.christineduong.com

<http://www.linkedin.com/pub/christine-duong/8/94/492>
christine.q.duong@gmail.com

A dark blue square containing the white letters 'CD' in a bold, sans-serif font.

Skills

Technical Skills HTML5 & CSS3 (advanced), Responsive Design (intermediate), SASS/LESS (intermediate), Javascript (intermediate), jQuery (intermediate), JSON (intermediate), Email Marketing (intermediate), Video Editing (intermediate), CSS3 Animations (novice)

Software/Frameworks KnockoutJS, Zurb Foundation, Twitter Bootstrap, Sublime Text, Git, Grunt, Visual Studio, Adobe Creative Suite CS5 (Photoshop, Illustrator, After Effects), Final Cut Pro

Content Management Systems Adobe Experience Manager (AEM), Expression Engine, Umbraco, WordPress, Stellant

Experience

Web Developer, Autotrader

Atlanta, GA — 2014 - Present

Autotrader is an online marketplace for car shoppers and sellers. Under the Product Management department, I rapidly prototype and develop new products for the National Accounts team.

- Develop pages within the Adobe Experience Manager (AEM) Content Management System (CMS).
- Build components within AEM to allow for non-technical users to manage content.
- Build ad products using Google DoubleClick for Publishers (DFP).
- Implement analytics tracking using Adobe SiteCatalyst.

User Interface Developer, InComm

Atlanta, GA — 2013 - 2014

InComm provides point-of-sale retail services via stored-value and prepaid products. I worked on the rebranding of the Vanilla card products websites.

- Constructed a front-end framework for the web team to utilize, leveraging tools like SASS and Grunt.
- Developed and maintained websites in the Expression Engine Content Management System.

Front-End Developer, MaxMedia

Atlanta, GA — 2013

MaxMedia is an all-inclusive customer experience agency. I aided in launching the main site for AT&T's subsidiary, Aio Wireless.

christine duong

web developer | www.christineduong.com

<http://www.linkedin.com/pub/christine-duong/8/94/492>
christine.q.duong@gmail.com

A dark blue square containing the white letters 'CD' in a bold, sans-serif font.

Front-End Developer, Sagepath

Atlanta, GA — 2010 - 2013

Sagepath is a full-service digital experience agency. I worked as a front-end developer for various clients including Coca-Cola, NAPA AUTO PARTS, Home Depot, and RaceWay.

- Worked extensively with Content Management Systems such as Stellant, Umbraco and Word Press.
- Developed HTML newsletters for email marketing.
- Designed user experience wireframes for websites.

News Reporter, KXD CBS News 13

Fairbanks, AK — 2010

CBS News 13 provides local news coverage in Interior Alaska. I acted as a full-stack producer of news stories as a reporter, camera person, writer, video, editor, and teleprompter.

- Investigated local news stories focused around military and community events.
- Recorded daily radio and television commercials to promote the news.
- Received military coin of appreciation from Fort Wainwright Unit Command Sergeant Major for military news stories.

Awards

Communicator Award of Distinction in Interactive Media

Academy of Interactive & Visual Arts — 2016

The Communicator Awards is the leading international awards program recognizing big ideas in marketing and communications. I received this award for the "2016 Toyota Tacoma: First Drive Review - Multimedia Experience" webpage created on Autotrader.com.

Education

Georgia Institute of Technology

B.S. in Computational Media — 2006-2010

References

"Christine is very successful at adapting to change, suggesting new approaches and challenging the status quo."

"Christine is a highly resourceful developer, always open to proactively exploring new solutions and skilled at rapidly executing on innovative solutions."